

For more information, contact Steve Houston or Diane Poelker at 314/721-2828.

Azzanni Joins J. Bathe Electric Co. as Director of Commercial Services Division

ST. LOUIS – George Azzanni has joined J. Bathe Electric Co. as director of commercial services. The announcement was made by Jeff Bathe, president.

Utilizing his more than 40 years of electrical contracting experience, Azzanni will lead all facets of J. Bathe’s commercial services division, including business development, estimating and project management. He previously served as president of Kaiser Electric.

“Azzanni has worked in the electrical contracting industry in nearly every position from apprentice electrician to CEO,” Bathe said. “His depth of knowledge will greatly advance our commercial construction division.” J Bathe’s commercial division currently serves retail, healthcare, distribution and service work.

Azzanni has volunteered for Habitat for Humanity and Rebuilding St. Louis. He also serves as director of music at his church, St. John’s, in Ellisville, Mo.

Family-owned and -operated for more than 60 years, J. Bathe Electric Co.

(www.jbathe.com) provides a full spectrum of residential and commercial contracting services in the greater St. Louis area. Its expertise includes commercial construction and maintenance; residential construction, including new, renovation and repair; remote power systems; and integrated home audio/visual services.

#

Editor’s note: J. Bathe Electric Co. is located at 71 Triad South Drive in St. Charles, Mo. 63304.

George Azzanni is a resident of Wildwood, Mo.